Recently finished some months ago, when he and his wife made it clear that the telephone company and utility services were separate and distinct entities. But the conflict of interest here continues to surface." Moore said it was necessary to bring up the issue of the two companies working the Annandale telephone.

Moore informed the council that the representative would attend to be at the meeting. He concluded his letter saying, "Should the opportunity present itself in the future, I would once again be pleased to serve the citizens and City of Annandale."

Recently resolved some months ago, when he and Bishop made it clear that the telephone company and cable television company were separate and distinct entities. But the conflict of interest issue continues to surface," Morrow said. It is most recently brought up by one of the five companies seeking the Annandale City franchise.

Morrow advised the council that his participation in the council would be at an April 1 meeting. He concluded his letter saying: "Should the opportunity present itself in the future, I would once again be pleased to serve the citizens and City of Annandale."

A mayor and council will have to be a replacement to complete the term of Morrow's council.

Two of the five council members that he appointed. The other two council members, Val Lawler, pointed to complete the final two of Don Figg's term after Figg was mayor.

While, the council has advertised proposals on the cable television. Discussions with interested agencies are likely to continue the spring, and the council has that it hopes to award a franchise construction by early summer.
